2. About the National Initiatives grant program

The National Initiatives grant program aims to achieve positive outcomes for families, women and their children by working across sectors to improve the safety and wellbeing of children, advancing gender equality and reducing violence against women and their children.

Through the National Framework for Protecting Australia’s Children 2009-2020 and the National Plan to Reduce Violence against Women and their Children 2010-2022 (the National Plan), the department collaborates with other Commonwealth agencies and state and territory governments works to support and bring about change for children, women and families.

The National Plan recognises the gendered nature of family, domestic and sexual violence, and aims to connect the important work being done by all Australian governments, community organisations and individuals to reduce violence so that we can work together to ensure each year, less women experience violence and more women and their children live safely. National Initiatives activities emphasise supporting systems and services for those affected by violence and abuse.

The Australian Government is investing $2.472 million (across FY2019–20 to FY2021–22) in projects that promote Men as Role Models for Preventing Violence against Women and their Children, focused on changing the social conditions that excuse, justify, or promote violence against women and their children.

The Community Grants Hub administers the program according to the Commonwealth Grants Rules and Guidelines 2017 (CGRGs).
2.1 About the Men as Role Models for Preventing Violence against Women and their Children grant opportunity

Violence against women and their children is prevalent and persistent in all communities across in Australia. It is also completely preventable. Preventing violence before it happens is a key priority of the Fourth Action Plan of the National Plan, and will have positive impacts that go well beyond ending the violence itself – from better health outcomes for individuals to more inclusive and equal organisations, communities and families that support personal development and social wellbeing. This grant opportunity recognises the important role that men play in preventing violence against women and their children.

While only a minority of men actually perpetrate violence against women, many men are often silent in the face of violence, sexual assault, or attitudes that excuse or minimise violence and control in relationships. To stop violence against women, men must do more than avoid perpetrating the worst forms of physical or sexual violence themselves. Men must strive for equitable and respectful relationships. They must challenge the violence of other men, and they must work to challenge the social and cultural supports for violence against women evident in communities throughout Australia – the sexist and violence-supportive norms, bad behaviours, and the gender inequalities that feed violence against women (Flood, M. 2010).

Men have a vital role to play in building a world of gender equality – and many already are doing so by challenging behaviours and attitudes that have an impact on violence, especially when surrounded by mates or colleagues who do not speak up. Men also have a particularly important role to instil respectful attitudes and behaviours in the children and young people in their lives.

One in six women and one in 17 men have experienced physical or sexual violence by a partner (ABS, 2016). In 2017, police recorded 24,957 victims of sexual assault, with young women aged 15-19 reporting the highest rates of sexual assault, this is an increase of 5 per cent from 2016 (ABS, 2018). On average, almost eight women and two men were hospitalised each day in 2014–15 because a current or former spouse or domestic partner assaulted them (AIHW, 2018). Children who witness partner violence are two to four times more likely to experience partner violence as adults. They also bear long-term impacts on their cognitive and emotional functioning, social development, education, and employment prospects due to the trauma they experience (KPMG, 2016).

This grant opportunity focuses on primary prevention. Primary prevention is not a single approach, it requires specific and targeted strategies to ensure all women and children are safe from all forms of violence. Primary prevention projects under this grant opportunity will be designed to change the social conditions that excuse, justify or promote violence, to stop the violence before it starts.

The roots of violence go back to attitudes formed early in life, the prevalence of violence may escalate in the presence of life stressors, substance abuse, mental health issues and discrimination. While there is almost universal acceptance by the Australian community that violence against women and children is wrong, many people continue to hold violence-excusing attitudes and behaviours. This is particularly true of young people. The National Community Attitudes towards Violence against Women Survey 2017 (NCAS) found that having a low level of support for gender equality is the strongest predictor of attitudes supportive of violence against women. In particular, the themes of ‘denying gender inequality is a problem’ and ‘promoting rigid gender roles’ have the strongest influence on attitudes towards violence against women.

The 2017 NCAS also found that:

- one in five Australians believe domestic violence is a normal reaction to stress
- one in eight surveyed believe that if a woman is raped while she is drunk or affected by drugs she is at least partly responsible
• nearly one quarter of Australians see no harm in telling sexist jokes
• two in five Australians believe many women exaggerate how unequally women are treated in Australia
• one in three think it is natural for a man to want to appear in control of his partner in front of his male friends
• nearly one in five Australians do not believe financial control is a serious problem
• one in seven Australians do not agree that women are as capable as men in politics and in the workplace.

As outlined in Change the Story: A shared framework for the primary prevention of violence, male peer relations – whether in social or organisational contexts – can be important sources of support and friendship between men. However, where these relationships are characterised by attitudes or cultures that reinforce rigid, stereotypical or aggressive forms of masculinity, and/or the idea that relations between men and women are fundamentally based on conflict, this can create disrespect for, objectification of, or hostility towards women.

This grant opportunity responds directly to feedback from the national consultations on the Fourth Action Plan which highlighted the need to promote respectful relationships, and continue to support men to build healthy, safe and respectful family relationships and reject violence-supportive attitudes, and to be positive role models at home, at work, in the community, and online.

2.1.1 Objectives of the grant opportunity

The objective of this grant opportunity is to support innovative primary prevention activities that involve men as positive role models to drive changes in the behaviours, attitudes or other social and cultural factors that contribute to violence against women and children. These activities will involve men to challenge the underlying social, economic and political conditions, as well as historical and cultural factors that allow violence-supportive attitudes and behaviours to thrive.

2.1.2 Intended outcomes of the grant opportunity

Consistent with the overall objectives of the National Plan, the grant opportunity will support organisations to design and deliver primary prevention programs that engage and encourage men to be positive role models in their communities and to take a lead role in preventing violence against women.

Projects should be aligned to, and support, national primary prevention frameworks:

• Change the Story: A shared framework for the primary prevention of violence
• Changing the Picture: preventing violence against Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women
• Counting on Change: A guide to prevention monitoring.

Outcome 1. Projects will involve men to promote gender equality, and drive changes in attitudes and behaviours in their community, at home, at work or online.

We are seeking projects that engage and encourage men to be positive role models in their communities and to act to drive changes in awareness, attitudes and behaviours that lead to, or contribute to, violence against women and their children.

Outcome 2. Projects will address behaviours, attitudes or other social and cultural factors that contribute to violence against women and children.

Preventing violence before it occurs is a key focus of the Fourth Action Plan. Funded projects will drive a change in the behaviours, attitudes or other social and cultural factors that contribute to violence against women and children. We are seeking projects aimed at promoting and supporting positive male role models to drive changes in the behaviours, attitudes or other social and cultural factors that contribute to violence against women and their children.

For primary prevention interventions to be effective, they must focus on reducing the drivers of violence against women, which include:

2. Men’s control of decision-making and limits to women’s independence.
3. Rigid gender roles and identities.
4. Male peer relations that emphasise aggression and disrespect towards women.

Outcome 3. Projects will be innovative and/or complement and expand on existing effective projects, frameworks and campaigns.

It is important to build on the successes achieved through the National Plan. The department will consider applications for new and innovative approaches to primary prevention, as well as approaches that seek to expand or build on existing activities that have proven successful to date.

Organisations may apply for funding through this grant opportunity for existing primary prevention activities that are showing positive results, where additional funding would increase reach and/or impact in the community. This also includes funding for activities that previously received grants funding under the Third Action Plan and the Women’s Safety Package.

Outcome 4. Projects will be impactful and measurable.

The Men as Role Models for Preventing Violence against Women and their Children grant program will be evaluated to see how well the outcomes and objectives have been achieved.

Applicants must consider upfront how they will measure the success of their proposed project. The successful applicant(s) will be required to work with an evaluator of the department’s choosing to participate in a grant program evaluation. The evaluator will also support applicants to understand and apply existing primary prevention frameworks and resources to their project.

When the department selects an evaluator, consideration will be given to:

- having a proven track record of producing high quality outcomes for the department
- having strong relationships with the sector
- familiarity with best practice frameworks for evaluating primary prevention.

Outcomes measurement should consider the approach outlined in Counting on Change; a guide to prevention monitoring.

The Delegate or their appointed representative\(^8\) will determine whether a late application will be accepted. The decision of the delegate will be final and not be subject to a review or appeals process.

Once the outcome is determined, the Community Grants Hub will advise the applicant if their request is accepted or declined.

The Community Grants Hub will respond to emailed questions within five working days. Answers to questions are posted on the GrantConnect and Community Grants Hub websites.

The question period will close at 5:00PM AEST on 10 September 2019. Following this time, only questions about using and/or submitting the application form will be answered.

8. The grant selection process

8.1 Assessment of grant applications

The Assessment team will review your application against the eligibility criteria. Only eligible applications will move to the next stage. Eligible applications will be considered through an open competitive grant process.

If eligible, the department will then assess your application against the assessment criteria (see Section 6) and against other applications. We will consider your application on its merits, based on how:

- well it meets the criteria
- it compares to other applications.

A Selection Advisory Panel will consider whether it provides value with relevant money.\(^9\)

When assessing the extent to which the application represents value with relevant money, the Selection Advisory Panel will have regard to:

- the overall objective/s to be achieved in providing the grant
- the relative value of the grant sought
- extent to which the community/ies targeted in the application matches identified priorities
- the extent to which the evidence in the application demonstrates that it will contribute to meeting the outcomes/objectives
- how the grant activities will target groups or individuals.

8.2 Financial viability

Applicants may be subject to a financial viability assessment. The financial viability assessment forms part of the risk mitigation strategy and can include:

- establishing whether relevant persons have any adverse business history (for example current or past bankruptcy)
- assessment of the financial health of an entity.

8.3 Who will assess and select applications?

The department will assess each eligible and compliant application on its merit and compare it to other eligible applications. Assessment will be undertaken by Department of Social Services personnel, who will undertake training to ensure consistent assessment of all applications.

\(^9\) See glossary for an explanation of ‘value with money’.
The department may invite experts in domestic and family violence or sexual assault, representatives of target communities, or representatives from other Commonwealth agencies to participate on the Expert Advisory Group and/or the Selection Advisory Panel. Any expert/advisor, who is not a Commonwealth official, will be required/expected to perform their duties in accordance with the CGRGs.

The Selection Advisory Panel may seek additional information about you or your application and this may delay completion of the selection process. They may do this from within the Commonwealth, even if the sources are not nominated by you as referees. Assessment personnel may also consider information about you or your application that is available through the normal course of business.

The Selection Advisory Panel recommends to the decision maker which applications to approve for a grant.

8.4 Who will approve grants?

The Minister for Families and Social Services or their delegate (the decision maker) decides which grants to approve based on the recommendations of the Selection Advisory Panel and the availability of grant funds for the purposes of the grant program.

The decision maker’s decision is final in all matters, including the:

- approval of the grant
- grant funding amount to be awarded
- terms and conditions of the grant.

The decision maker can choose to waive the eligibility criteria, however they must be made aware of the risks.

There is no appeal mechanism for decisions to approve or not approve a grant.

9. Notification of application outcomes

We will write to you about the outcome of your application. If you are successful, you are advised of any specific conditions attached to the grant.

You can submit a new application for the same grant (or a similar grant) in any future grant opportunities under the program. You should include new or more information to address any weaknesses that may have prevented your previous application from being successful.

9.1 Feedback on your application

A Feedback Summary will be published on the Community Grants Hub website to provide all organisations with easy to access information about the grant selection process and the main strengths and areas for improving applications.

Individual feedback will not be provided for this grant opportunity.

10. Successful grant applications

10.1 The grant agreement

You must enter into a legally binding grant agreement with the Commonwealth. We will offer successful applicants a Commonwealth Standard Grant Agreement for this grant opportunity. An Activity Work Plan will be used to outline the specific grant requirements.
Each agreement has general/standard grant conditions that cannot be changed. Sample grant agreements are available on GrantConnect and Community Grants Hub websites as part of the grant documentation. We will use a schedule to outline the specific grant requirements.

We must execute a grant agreement with you before we can make any payments. We are not responsible for any of your expenditure until a grant agreement is executed. You must not start any Men as Role Models for Preventing Violence against Women and their Children activities until a grant agreement is executed.

Your grant agreement may have specific conditions determined by the assessment process or other considerations made by the decision maker. These are identified in the agreement.

The Commonwealth may recover grant funds if there is a breach of the grant agreement.

Commonwealth Standard Grant Agreement

We will use a Commonwealth Standard Grant Agreement.

You will have twenty (20) business days from the date of a written offer to sign and return this grant agreement. The grant agreement is not considered to be executed until both you and the Commonwealth have signed the agreement. During this time, we will work with you to finalise details.

The offer may lapse if both parties do not sign the grant agreement within this time. Under certain circumstances, we may extend this period. We base the approval of your grant on the information you provide in your application.

You may request changes to the grant agreement. However, we will review any changes to make sure they do not affect the grant as approved by the decision maker.

10.2 Commonwealth Child Safe Framework

The Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse highlighted the need for organisations to adopt child safe practices including appropriate screening of staff, mandatory reporting and adoption of the National Principles for Child Safe Organisations. The Australian Government committed to a new Commonwealth-wide framework to protect children and young people it is responsible for – the Commonwealth Child Safe Framework (CCSF).

The Australian Government is considering appropriate ways to apply the requirements of the CCSF to grant recipients. A child safety clause is likely to be included in a grant agreement where the Commonwealth considers the grant is for:

- services directly to children
- activities that involve contact with children that is a usual part of, and more than incidental to, the grant activity.

A child safety clause may also be included in the grant agreement if the Commonwealth considers the grant activity involves children more broadly.

The successful applicant will be required to comply with all child safety obligations included in the grant agreement published with this grant opportunity or notified to the successful applicant prior to execution of the grant agreement. Irrespective of the child safety obligations in the grant agreement you must always comply with your state and territory legislative requirements for working with children and mandatory reporting.
10.3 Multicultural Access and Equity

The Australian Government’s Multicultural Access and Equity Policy obliges Australian Government agencies to ensure their policies, programs and services - including those provided by contractors and service delivery partners - are accessible to, and deliver equitable outcomes for, people from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds.

Grant applicants should consider how they will ensure their services will be accessible to people from CALD backgrounds. For example, service delivery partners may require cultural competency skills. In addition, services, projects, activities or events may require the use of professional translating or interpreting services in order to communicate with clients who have limited English proficiency. Based on an assessment of the client target group, costs for translating and interpreting services should be factored into grant applications.

10.4 How we pay the grant

The grant agreement will state the:

- maximum grant amount to be paid
- proportion of eligible expenditure covered by the grant (grant percentage)
- any financial contributions you must make
- any in-kind contributions you will make
- any financial contribution provided by a third party.

We will not exceed the maximum grant amount under any circumstances. If you incur extra costs in conducting the grant activities, you must meet them yourself.

We will make payments according to an agreed schedule set out in the grant agreement. Payments are subject to satisfactory progress on the grant activity.

10.5 Grant payments and GST

Payments will be GST Inclusive. If you are registered for the Goods and Services Tax (GST), where applicable, we will add GST to your grant payment and issue you with a Recipient Created Tax Invoice.

If a Government Related Entity is deemed successful, GST will not apply.

Grants are assessable income for taxation purposes, unless exempted by a taxation law. We recommend you seek independent professional advice on your taxation obligations or seek assistance from the Australian Taxation Office. We do not provide advice on your particular taxation circumstances.

11. Announcement of grants

If successful, your grant will be listed on the GrantConnect website 21 calendar days after the date of effect as required by Section 5.3 of the CGRGs.

12. How we monitor your grant activity

12.1 Keeping us informed

You should let us know if anything is likely to affect your grant activities or organisation.

We need to know of any changes to your organisation or its business activities, particularly if they affect your ability to complete your grant, carry on business and pay debts due because of these changes.
You must also inform us of any changes to your:

- name
- addresses
- nominated contact details
- bank account details.

If you become aware of a breach of the terms and conditions under the grant agreement, you must contact us immediately.

You must notify us of events relating to your grant and provide an opportunity for the Minister or their representative to attend.

12.2 Reporting

Grantees must have systems in place to meet their data collection and reporting obligations outlined in their grant agreement.

You must submit a completed Activity Work Plan and progress reports in line with the grant agreement. We will provide sample templates for these reports. We will remind you of your reporting obligations before a report is due. We will expect you to report on:

- progress against agreed grant activity milestones and outcomes
- contributions of participants directly related to the grant activity
- expenditure of the grant.

The amount of detail you provide in your reports should be relative to the size and complexity of the grant and the grant amount.

We will monitor progress by assessing reports you submit and may conduct site visits or request records to confirm details of your reports if necessary. Occasionally we may need to re-examine claims, ask for more information or request an independent audit of claims and payments.

Progress reports

Progress reports must:

- include evidence of your progress toward completion of agreed activities and outcomes
- show the total eligible expenditure incurred to date
- be submitted by the report due date (you can submit reports ahead of time if you have completed relevant activities).

We will only make grant payments when we receive satisfactory progress reports.

You must tell us of any reporting delays with us as soon as you become aware of them.

Final report

When you complete the grant activity, you must submit a final report.

Final reports must:

- identify if and how outcomes have been achieved
- include the agreed evidence as specified in the grant agreement
- identify the total eligible expenditure incurred
- be submitted by the due date and in the format provided in the grant agreement.
12.3 Financial declaration
We will ask you to provide an annual declaration that the grant money was spent in accordance with the grant agreement and to report on any underspends of the grant money.

12.4 Grant agreement variations
We recognise that unexpected events may affect your progress. In these circumstances, you can request a variation to your grant agreement. You can request a variation by contacting your Funding Arrangement Manager, Community Grants Hub.

You should not assume that a variation request will be successful. We will consider your request based on provisions in the grant agreement and the likely impact on achieving outcomes.

12.5 Compliance visits
We may visit you during or at the completion of your grant activity to review your compliance with the grant agreement. We will provide you with reasonable notice of any compliance visit.

12.6 Record keeping
We may also inspect the records you are required to keep under the grant agreement.

12.7 Evaluation
The Men as Role Models for Preventing Violence against Women and their Children grant activity will be evaluated by the department, or an evaluator of the department’s choosing, to see how well the outcomes and objectives have been achieved. You will be required to participate in a grant program evaluation as necessary for the period specified in the grant agreement. To support this, the department and the funded organisation will agree on the data that will be required as part of your reporting requirements during grant agreement negotiations. We may also use information from your application and progress reports for this purpose.

Final evaluation arrangements will be negotiated, but will have the following aims:

- Impact evaluations of each funded project (through individual evaluation reports) to demonstrate the intended outcomes of each project are met.
- A central evaluation of the grant programs as a whole, to demonstrate collective change across all the projects, in line with Change the Story, Changing the Picture and Counting on Change to inform future prevention investment.

We may also ask you for more information to help us understand how the grant impacted you and to evaluate how effective the program was in achieving its outcomes.

We may contact you up to two years after you finish your grant for more information to assist with this evaluation.

12.8 Acknowledgement
If you make a public statement about a grant activity funded under the program, we require you to acknowledge the grant by using the following:

‘This Men as Role Models for Preventing Violence against Women and their Children activity received grant funding from the Australian Government.’
13. Probity

The Australian government will make sure that the grant opportunity process is fair, according to the published guidelines, incorporates appropriate safeguards against fraud, unlawful activities and other inappropriate conduct and is consistent with the CGRGs.

These guidelines may be changed by the department. When this happens, the revised guidelines are published on GrantConnect and the Community Grants Hub websites.

- professional, commercial or personal relationship with a party who is able to influence the application selection process, such as an Australian government officer or member of an external panel
- relationship with or interest in, an organisation, which is likely to interfere with or restrict the applicants from carrying out the proposed activities fairly and independently relationship with, or interest in, an organisation from which they will receive personal gain because the organisation receives a grant under the grant program/grant opportunity.

You will be asked to declare, as part of your application, any perceived or existing conflicts of interests or that, to the best of your knowledge, there is no conflict of interest.

If you later think there is an actual, apparent, or perceived conflict of interest, you must inform the department and the Community Grants Hub in writing immediately.

Conflicts of interest for Australian government staff will be handled as set out in the Australian Public Service Code of Conduct (Section 13(7)) of the Public Service Act 1999. Committee members and other officials including the decision maker must also declare any conflicts of interest.

We publish our conflict of interest policy on the Community Grants Hub website.

Accordingly, you must not do anything, which if done by the Australian Government would breach an Australian Privacy Principle as defined in the Act.

The obligation will not be breached where you are required by law, Parliament or a stock exchange to disclose the relevant information or where the relevant information is publicly available (other than through breach of a confidentiality or non-disclosure obligation).
We may at any time, require you to arrange for you; or your employees, agents or subcontractors to give a written undertaking relating to nondisclosure of our confidential information in a form we consider acceptable.

When administering a grant opportunity, an official should consider the relevant financial and non-financial costs and benefits of each proposal including, but not limited to the:

- quality of the project proposal and activities;
- fit for purpose of the proposal in contributing to government objectives;
- absence of a grant is likely to prevent the grantee and government’s outcomes being achieved
- potential grantee’s relevant experience and performance history.
