1.1 About the grant process

The decision maker decides if the grant application is successful.

We notify you of the outcome

We advise you of the outcome of your application.

We enter into a grant agreement

We will enter into a grant agreement with the successful applicant. The type of grant agreement is based on the nature of the grant and proportional to the risks involved.

Delivery of grant

You undertake the grant activity as set out in your grant agreement. We manage the grant by working with you, monitoring your progress and making payments.

Evaluation of the program

We evaluate the specific grant activity and program as a whole. We base this on information you provide to us and that we collect from various sources.

1.2 Role of the Community Grants Hub

This grant opportunity will be managed by the Community Grants Hub (the Hub) on behalf of the Department of Social Services, under a Whole of Australian Government initiative to streamline grant processes across agencies.

1.3 About the grant program

These guidelines contain information about a restricted non-competitive grant opportunity for the My Maintenance Crew project. The project was one of those developed during Tranche 1 stage 2 of the Try, Test and Learn Fund. Information about this and other Try, Test and Learn Fund grant opportunities will be released on the GrantConnect website.

The Try, Test and Learn Fund was announced in the 2016-17 Federal Budget as an initial response to the Australian Priority Investment Approach to Welfare under Outcome 1.10 Working Age Payments. It will develop and fund new or innovative policy responses aimed at improving workforce participation or capacity to work for groups at risk of long-term welfare dependence.

Detailed information about the Try, Test and Learn Fund is publicly available in the Try, Test and Learn Fund Tranche 1 Handbook and the Co-development Supplementary Information document.

The Try, Test and Learn Fund forms part of Outcome 1.10 Working Age Payments. It will be undertaken according to the Commonwealth Grants Rules and Guidelines 2017 (CGRGs)

This document sets out:

- the background and goals of the Try, Test and Learn Fund
- how the Try, Test and Learn Fund works, including information on the public consultation activities that have defined the project to be funded through this grant opportunity (ideas generation and co-development)
- the assessment criteria for the grant opportunity
- how grant applications will be evaluated
- responsibilities and expectations in relation to the opportunity.

You must read this document before completing an application.

1.4 Background to the grant opportunity

1.4.1 Overview

These guidelines relate to the My Maintenance Crew project, which is one of the projects to be funded in the second stage of Tranche 1 of the Try, Test and Learn Fund. Funding for Try, Test and Learn Fund projects will be released in multiple tranches over several years.

Tranche 1 commenced in December 2016 with a public call for ideas. Promising ideas were co-designed with stakeholders and developed into refined project proposals in two batches; stage one and stage two. From these proposals the Minister for Social Services, in consultation with the Prime Minister, Treasurer and the Minister for Finance, selected a number of projects for funding including this project, which is to be funded through the restricted non-competitive opportunity outlined in these Grant Opportunity Guidelines.

The following sections provide more detail on Tranche 1 stage 2 and the consultation activities that defined the project being funded.

1.4.2 The Australian Priority Investment Approach to Welfare and the Try, Test and Learn Fund

The Australian Priority Investment Approach to Welfare was a recommendation of the 2015 review of Australia's welfare system, A New System for Better Employment and Social Outcomes, led by Patrick McClure. It was established by the Australian Department of Social Services in 2015 and is underpinned by annual actuarial valuations of welfare payment data.

The valuations estimate the future lifetime cost of welfare payments to the Australian population and groups within it.

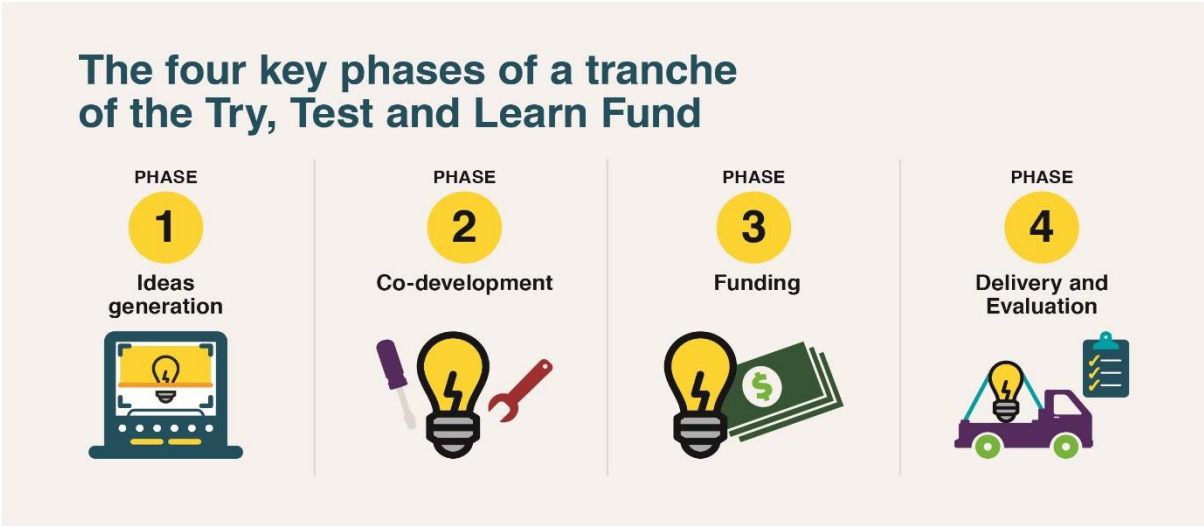

The objectives of the Priority Investment Approach are to improve lifetime wellbeing by:

- increasing the capacity of individuals to participate in social and economic life and to live independently of welfare
- reducing the risk of welfare dependence
- reducing long-term social security costs in the interests of maintaining a sustainable support system for vulnerable Australians.

The Try, Test and Learn Fund will support groups identified by the government, based on analysis of Priority Investment Approach valuations, as being at high risk of long-term welfare dependence and whose risk could be reduced with new or innovative policy responses.

Policy responses arising from the Fund are developed through an open and collaborative approach. This approach is focused on seeking new ideas from and collaborating with a diverse range of stakeholders including the social sector, business, academia and the general public in order to develop new ways of tackling complex social challenges.

The Try, Test and Learn Fund entails multiple stages of consultation (see diagram below). It seeks new ideas and then co-designs promising ideas with relevant stakeholders including potential service users. After co-design, selected projects are funded, delivered and evaluated.

The approach to ideas generation and co-development ensures that officials can work closely with potential grant recipients and beneficiaries on designing activities that will achieve the outcomes of the Try, Test and Learn Fund in alignment with public needs

Another central feature of the Try, Test and Learn Fund is the generation of new insights and empirical evidence into ‘what works’ to reduce long-term welfare dependence. Projects will be robustly evaluated to produce high quality policy evidence regarding whether the interventions are effective, for whom and under what circumstances. In this way, the Fund will allow Government to identify what approaches work and use this evidence to transform our funding in existing programs or make the case for new projects.

1.4.3 Tranche 1 priority groups

The priority groups for Tranche 1 of the Try, Test and Learn Fund were informed by the 2015 Priority Investment Approach Baseline Valuation Report and additional analysis of Priority Investment Approach data. These initial priority groups are:

- young people aged under 25 who started receiving Parenting Payment at age 18 or under and who are still receiving an income support payment
- young people aged under 25 who are in receipt of Carer Payment or at immediate risk of going onto the payment
- young people aged under 25 who have moved, or are at risk of moving, from study (post-secondary or tertiary and been in receipt or receiving a student payment) to an extended period on an unemployment payment.

The initial priority groups were chosen by the Minister of Social Services based on advice provided by the Department of Social Services and the Priority Investment Approach Inter-departmental Committee.

These priority groups are among a number identified in the Priority Investment Approach Baseline Valuation Report as groups of interest who have relatively high lifetime costs but for whom there is potential to reduce these likely costs and improve likely lifetime outcomes.

1.4.4 Tranche 1 stage 2 project development and selection

The process for the development and selection of Tranche 1 stage 2 projects entailed:

- Ideas generation – Ideas co-developed as part of Tranche 1 stage 2 were received during the generation phase for Tranche 1 conducted 9 December 2016 to 24 February 2017. As noted in the Try, Test and Learn Fund Tranche 1 Handbook, ideas were broadly sought from community groups, government, academics, business, other groups and the general public through an open forum on the Department of Social Services consultation platform, DSS Engage. Information on eligible ideas co-developed in Tranche 1 stage 2 were published on DSS Engage.
- Ideas shortlisting – Ideas were assessed against the following criteria: effectiveness and impact of the idea; a new or innovative approach; and appropriateness for trial and evaluation. More detail on selection criteria used at the ideas generation stage is available in the Try, Test and Learn Fund Tranche 1 Handbook. Each submission was assessed and moderated before being scored. DSS undertook additional research on potential ideas for Tranche 1 stage 2 before co-development was undertaken. Following shortlisting and co-development of the first batch of projects a second idea shortlisting process was undertaken. This resulted in the identification of a further batch of ideas from Tranche 1 for co-development.

- Co-development – Shortlisted ideas entered a co-development phase, in which stakeholders collaboratively developed and refined the shortlisted ideas from initial concepts into detailed project proposals. This co-development stage was an important step in seeking new and innovative solutions, and focused on fostering:
 - genuine collaboration with a meaningful impact on program design, including a focus on collaboration with representatives of the priority groups
 - more creative and innovative program design
 - new opportunities for collaboration between the Commonwealth, the community sector, business and other stakeholders, and the chance to learn from each other.

Co-development involved a series of workshops led by independent design facilitators. Key co-development stakeholders included proponents of the idea and potential services users (priority group members). Other stakeholders included members of the Try, Test and Learn Fund Expert Advisory Panel,¹ relevant Commonwealth government representatives and peak body representatives.

At the end of the co-development phase, design facilitators prepared proposals for each project with some input from co-development participants. More information on the co-development process is available in the Co-development Supplementary Information document.

- Project recommendation and selection (August – October 2017) – At the conclusion of the co-development phase, project proposals were considered to determine which projects should proceed to funding and delivery. Each project was considered independently against a range of parameters by the Department of Social Services in consultation with the Priority Investment Approach Inter-departmental Committee.² Considerations included how likely the project was to achieve intended outcomes, any major risks or challenges in delivering the project and whether the project had a viable approach for delivery and evaluation. Following these considerations, recommendations were put forward to the Minister for Social Services who made final project selections in consultation with the Prime Minister, the Minister for Finance and the Treasurer.

² Members include the Departments of the Prime Minister and Cabinet, Employment, Education and Training, Finance, Health, Human Services, and Social Services; the Treasury; the Australian Bureau of Statistics; and the Australian Government Actuary.

1.4.5 Tranche 1 stage 2 project funding (January 2018 onwards)

These Grant Opportunity Guidelines cover the My Maintenance Crew project for which a restricted non-competitive grant process has been determined to be the appropriate funding approach.

Where a restricted non-competitive grant process has been selected, the original idea proponent is considered to be in a unique position to deliver the project, and has therefore been selected as a sole eligible applicant. In these cases, the idea proponent's idea has been co-developed into a specific project with the Department of Social Services and other stakeholders but retains features which make the idea proponent uniquely qualified as a potential delivery partner. Where idea proponents have not demonstrated specialised expertise or are not in a position to deliver projects, restricted competitive or open competitive grant processes will be pursued.

1.5 Grant opportunity objectives and outcomes

The project aims to develop a social enterprise that helps young, unemployed, disadvantaged people who have an interest in hands-on vocational training to transition into the workforce. This priority group faces a number of barriers gaining employment, including a lack of work experience, a lack of networks and a range of social and medical issues that prevent entry to mainstream employment. The Greater Geelong region has some of the highest incidences of social disadvantage across the country; and therefore the proposed trial location.

This project will provide 125 young, unemployed, disadvantaged people with employment opportunities in sectors with current unmet demand in the Geelong area. Participants will have the opportunity to work in building, garden maintenance and events clean-up services. Throughout the program, participants will be provided:

- education,
- work experience,
- personal development prospects,
- mentoring,
- counselling, and
- employment support to take up employment opportunities.

Employment provided through the social enterprise could be ongoing, provide participants with the impetus to undertake formal education and/or gain experience that is transferable to other job opportunities.

Over the short to medium-term (3-24 months), it would be expected participants:

- are engaged in meaningful employment and have built some of the required skills (both technical and 'soft' skills)
- confidence and self-esteem has increased.

Over the long-term, it would be expected participants:

- would have sustained employment and have a clear pathway to long-term workforce participation
- have reduced reliance on welfare
- have improved their social wellbeing.

The success of this project will be measured by a robust monitoring and evaluation system, tracking essential program information and participant outcomes, including formative and summative evaluation processes. The delivery partner will need to consider incorporating evaluation processes, such as: online surveys, focus groups, co-design workshops, informal feedback mechanisms, best practice monitoring techniques to track behavioural change and wellbeing, and control groups. To test the effectiveness of the program, the delivery partner could consider incorporating control groups that include all program participants, people interested in participating but not yet enrolled, and cohort specific control groups.

Potential monitoring tools include the personal wellbeing index (PWI), engagement and behaviour tracking, and direct feedback surveys. The PWI measure the wellbeing of each participant compared to other populations.

2. Grant amount

The Australian Government has announced a total of $79.6 million to projects supported by the Fund over four years for the Try, Test and Learn Fund. Individual grant amounts will be guided by project design and budgeting conducted during the co-development process and captured in project proposals.

3. Grant eligibility criteria

My Maintenance Crew is a three year trial, with a total budget of $2.4 million. Due to the timeframes of the TTL Fund, DSS is proposing to fund this project only for the first 2.5 years, providing $2.3 million. The delivery partner will find alternative funding for the final six months.

We cannot consider your application if it does not satisfy all the eligibility criteria.

3.1 Who is eligible to apply for a grant?

To be eligible to apply you must be the listed invited organisation and have received an invitation to apply through GrantConnect.

3.1.1 Eligible applicant

To be eligible you must be the listed organisation:

Name of Organisation	Rationale for Invitation
Diversitat	See rationale below

Diversitat is invited to apply for this grant opportunity as they have been assessed to have:

- capability to deliver the project activities in the project location
- existing infrastructure and relationships to support the project activities
- knowledge of and capability to deliver to the project objectives and outcomes.

The proposal has been largely developed from the idea Diversitat submitted to the Try, Test and Learn Fund at the beginning of the year. Because Diversitat was also involved in the co-development activities, they were able to provide additional expertise that improved the quality of the proposal. Diversitat has already built networks in the community that will be leveraged during the piloting of this proposal. The organisation has connections with local government authorities and organisations who have sought their assistance on clean-up projects, demonstrating the positive reputation Diversitat has developed within the community. Furthermore, Diversitat already delivers a social enterprise, operating a clean-up and waste management team for events. Their established administrative arrangements and infrastructure will help the Department deliver the project quickly and efficiently. By gaining a reliable source of employment through the delivery provider's unique social enterprise approach, unemployed, disadvantaged young people involved in the program will gain a critical source of employment-derived income, experience and connections into other workforce opportunities and a far greater chance of ongoing employment into adult life.

Diversitat will provide a range of practical supports that will help participants in the workplace, participants:

- will be paired one-on-one with a mentor who will work closely with them to build skills and confidence in the workplace,
- will have access to an individual work plan which will be created to allow the participant to continue developing by creating linkages to further education,
- will have access to 'soft' skills development to grow their personal skills alongside their practical skills, and
- can use a counselling drop-in service that will be provided to support participants overcome barriers to the continuation of the employment. The counsellor will be responsible for ensuring the participant has full access to wrap around services.

By providing these services, Diversitat ensures that participants do not just have just access to jobs, but also support systems to help them learn effective strategies to help maintain long-term workforce engagement. This differs from existing programs in the region as this idea intends to provide participants with jobs directly through the program. The existing providers in the Geelong region predominantly focus on providing employment support services such as training, support and mentoring.

The social enterprise provides a new approach that helps disadvantaged, unemployed young people gain required experience via a real job, with real work and real wages in a supportive environment, and a set of in-demand skills and capabilities to enable participants to have a better chance of achieving long-term employment and wellbeing. Note that once established, the social enterprise provides ongoing assistance to new participants, funded via its commercial activity, without the need for ongoing government or philanthropic grants or programs.

The idea proponent has collaborated with end users via a user experience-testing workshop. The idea of creating a social enterprise to assist young disadvantaged, unemployed people find stable employment was viewed positively. Participants highlighted that the program would provide a 'real job', not just training; the job would involve doing 'real work' that is in-demand in the local community/economy; there would be a real wage (i.e. Award-based) and the program would help them develop their networks in the broader community/outside of their regular networks. There was strong consensus that their families and/or other personal networks would very well receive their participation in the program.

Finally, the project will operate as a trial with constrained financial and time parameters. The most effective method of delivering a trial of this nature is to utilise the skills and knowledge of existing providers. This approach will provide the best value for money for conducting the initial, limited trial stage of the project and to collect policymaking evidence under the auspices of the evaluation-driven policy intent of the Try, Test and Learn Fund. There is no guarantee of continued funding for the successful applicant once the trial is completed. If any decision were made in the future to consider expanding a similar project concept for a broader rollout, broader-based and competitive funding processes would be considered.

5. The project development and grant selection processes

5.1 Project development

The My Maintenance Crew project underwent the Tranche 1 project development process outlined in section 1.4. In brief, this project entailed public ideas generation; shortlisting; intensive co-development with a variety of stakeholders including service providers and priority group representatives; and project recommendation and selection. Co-development involved a design-led approach which focused on the needs of service users. Stakeholders including service providers, government agencies and young people had the opportunity to comment and contribute to the development of the project.

The project expands upon an original idea submitted by Diversitat. The project was co-developed from this idea by a group of stakeholders, including the idea proponent and other selected participants, including end users. As such, they have intricate knowledge of the project and how best to implement it.

³ See glossary.

5.2 Grant selection process

If an eligible application is received, it will be considered through a restricted non-competitive grant process.

We will assess your application against the criteria set out below. Your application will be considered on its merits, based on:

- how well it meets the criteria
- whether it provides value for money.

When undertaking a selection process we will consider the proportionality of scale, nature, funding amount, complexity and risks involved in the funding round. We will consider proportionality to inform the choice of the application and selection process, the type of grant agreement to be used and the reporting and acquittal requirements.

6. The assessment criteria

You will need to address the following assessment criteria in your application. Other criteria, such as innovation, the likely effectiveness of the project and the feasibility of the trial and evaluation of the project have been considered in the idea and project selection stages and do not need to be addressed as part of this grant process.

We will judge your application based on each criterion. The amount of detail and supporting evidence you provide in your application should be relative to the project size, complexity and grant amount requested. The application form includes word limits.

The equally weighted assessment criteria are:

- 1. Demonstrate your organisation's experience, capability and capacity to manage and deliver services for the target group of disadvantaged, unemployed young people target group in the trial locations.

Your response should:

- demonstrate your organisation's ability to effectively develop, implement, manage and monitor grant activities to achieve positive outcomes for the target group of disadvantaged, unemployed young people in the trial location
- demonstrate your organisation's ability to establish effective links with relevant partners and stakeholders to achieve outcomes for the target group of disadvantaged, unemployed young people.

- 2. Demonstrate your organisation's experience, capability and capacity to implement and deliver the project and achieve its objectives.

Your response should:

- outline the number of key staff that will manage and / or deliver your organisation's project and outline their relevant capabilities (experience, skills and qualifications)
- demonstrate your organisation's capacity and approach to support data collection and monitoring activities for project evaluation.

8. Assessment of grant applications

8.1 Who will assess applications?

An assessment team will assess the eligible and compliant application based on its merits. The assessment team will be comprised of departmental staff.

The delegate's decision is final in all matters, including:

- the approval of the grant
- the grant funding amount to be awarded

- the terms and conditions of the grant.

The policy delegate must not approve funding if they reasonably consider the program funding available across financial years will not accommodate the funding offer, and / or that the application does not represent value for money.

9. Notification of application outcomes

You will be advised of the outcomes of your application in writing. If you are successful, you will also be advised about any specific conditions attached to the grant.

If you are unsuccessful, we will notify you in writing.

10. Successful grant applications

10.1 The grant agreement

If you are successful, you must enter into a legally binding grant agreement with the Commonwealth represented by the Department of Social Services. A schedule may be used to outline the specific grant requirements. Any additional conditions attached to the grant will be identified in the grant offer or during the grant agreement negotiations.

You will be required to:

- deliver the project and meet the performance reporting and financial acquittal requirements outlined in your grant agreement.

The Department of Social Services will negotiate the grant agreement with the successful applicant.

Where a grantee fails to meet the obligations of the grant agreement, the Department of Social Services may seek to terminate the relevant agreement.

You should not make financial commitments until a grant agreement has been executed by the Commonwealth.

10.2 How the grant will be paid

The grant agreement will state the:

- maximum grant amount to be paid.

We will not exceed the maximum grant amount under any circumstances. If you incur extra eligible expenditure, you must pay it yourself.

Grant funding will be paid:

- according to agreed milestones and performance indicators defined in the Grant Agreement and Activity Work Plan.

We recognise that unexpected events may affect the progress of a grant activity. In these circumstances, you can request an activity variation, including:

- changing an activity's milestones
- extending the timeframe for completing an activity but within the time period of the Try, Test and Learn Fund program.

The program does not allow for:

- an increase to the agreed amount of grant funds.

If you want to propose changes to the grant agreement, you must put them in writing before the grant agreement end date. Contact your Grant Agreement Manager for further information. We will not consider changes after the grant agreement end date.

You should not assume that a variation request will be successful. We will consider your request based on factors such as:

- how it affects the project outcome
- consistency with the program policy objective and any relevant policies of the Department of Social Services
- changes to the timing of grant payments
- availability of program funds.

11. Announcement of grants

If successful, your grant will be listed on the GrantConnect website 21 calendar days after the date of effect⁴ as required by Section 5.3 of the CGRGs.

12. Delivery of grant activities

12.1 Your responsibilities

If successful, you must carry out the grant activities in accordance with these guidelines and the grant agreement and activity work plan, which includes standard terms and conditions and any supplementary conditions. The grant agreement will outline specific grant requirements.
